

Women's Leadership Institute

February 8 - 9, 2013
Virginia Beach, VA | Houston, TX

Women often possess natural abilities to lead yet may find themselves being less effective in senior levels of leadership. Attributing a lack of opportunity or recognition to external factors is usually not the reason for limited success in leadership-- even for women. Instead, leadership opportunities are abundant to those who understand the difference between effectual and ineffectual leadership. The Women's Leadership Institute offers a revealing perspective about the perceptions and habits that result in unsuccessful leadership practice while providing intensive sessions to refine effective leadership behaviors and competencies.

Ideal Program for: Woman who are new to leadership roles or those experiencing glass-ceiling effects in attempting to lead at senior levels.

Duration: 2 days
Registration Fee: $675

Urban Leadership Institute

March 8 - 9, 2013
Richmond, VA

With an increased number of people living in urban centers around the world, the need exists to develop leaders who can holistically understand the range of challenges urban cities face from poverty, social and economic disparity to diversity, development and spiritual renewal. The Urban Leadership Institute is a unique program designed by Regent University Youth and Urban Renewal Center to bring the power of the spiritual formation with proven leadership techniques that will transform, equip and empower leaders to effectively engage communities and partners to bring sustainable renewal and development.

Ideal Program for: New Leaders, or mid-level managers looking to advance into senior leadership roles

Duration: 2 days
Registration Fee: $650

A growing number of professionals are being thrust into positions of leadership to fill the succession gaps of a retiring workforce. Without leadership development, coaching and mentoring, these new leaders are left with a challenging transition from management to senior organizational roles. The Emerging Leaders Institute is designed to unleash the potential within every new and aspiring leader by providing practical insight, tools and understanding to ensure greater effectiveness in navigating the complexities of organizational leadership.

Global Leaders Institute

March 28 - 30, 2013
Virginia Beach, VA | Johannesburg, South Africa | Zhejiang, China

The dynamics of global organizations today call for leaders to balance and contend with the challenges of change and complexity while working in diverse cultural environments. To be effective in multiple cultures, leaders need a broad repertoire of behaviors and the innate wisdom to apply those behaviors in ways that advance their organizations goals while also satisfying potential competing priorities of a host culture. The Global Leaders Institute provides an in-depth three days of assessment, leadership intensives and experiential learning to further equip leaders to be more effective in global practice.

Ideal Program for: New leaders, mid-level managers looking to advance into senior leadership roles
